Thoughtful, Effective Communications to Enhance Your Success

Cathi Douglas Communications provides seasoned public relations, writing and editing services to nonprofit, higher education and consumer clients.

Today, it's all about content. Original content takes time. Save the time and effort and let us be an extension of your public relations/marketing team.

We offer strategic counsel, thoughtful research and effective writing to tell your story.

Recently, we created content for custom-content pages in the Sunday Orange County Register, as well as feature and news stories for Coast Magazine and community newspapers. Visit our website to see our work samples.

We also have produced:

- Content for clients' websites
- Marketing brochures for specific colleges
- An annual report for a nonprofit fundraising organization
- Feature stories for private university magazines
- Scriptwriting and program materials for major events at public colleges
- White papers for corporate clients
- And much more.

Let us help you meet your organization's content development needs. We'd love to discuss the possibilities.
